Street car and railroad traffic was held up, mines were flooded and considerable damage was caused by swollen streams following the torrential rain of early this morning. Nothing was done to stop the rain, which fell in a steady stream, and the result was a deluge of water in the coke region. Dunbar suffered more severely than any other place in the region. Both the Freepoint and Abundant mines were flooded and workmen found it impossible to enter the pits. Work was suspended at both operations until the water receded. At McGee's crossing both the half-mile and Ohio railroad and the West Penn tracks were inundated by several feet of water in the morning. Traffic was impossible for a time. At one time there was nine feet of water at this crossing. The West Penn tracks at Connelville were flooded at 6 o'clock this morning. The accumulation of water from all the streams forming a miniature lake. It was impossible to cross at any point. The West Penn tracks were delayed somewhat by flooded tracks at various points along the line and the schedules were maintained, nevertheless. At the corner of Lanesburg avenue and Eighth street, West side, a foot of water inundated the junction and great quantities of debris were washed down the hill. A bridge over Mount creek leading from Pittsburg street to Fifth street was washed away early this morning by the swollen waters of the creek. The stream began to overflow its banks early in the day and before long much of the hill was under water. The water was running in an orderly manner and keeping its banks all morning. Usually in case of high water, the West Penn tracks at Connelville are flooded several feet deep and cars are unable to get through. There was no interruption in traffic there today. A tree which fell over on the West Penn bridge at Youngwood caused a slight delay. Eighth street, at Fayette, was under water and someone slipped up a plank bridge at that persons could get across without danger of drowning, or at least wet feet. On South Arch street the West Penn tracks were inundated for a considerable distance and there were severe, similar conditions on the South Connelville branch. A severe storm was more than enough to cause the accumulation of water and mud. The stream flowing through P. E. Markell's property made a good sized waterfall as it shot out from between the stones of the retaining wall. Baltimore and Ohio train No. 3 from Clarksburg was several hours late because of switches along the line. A section was made up here to make the run to Pittsburgh leaving Connelville at 10:10. The Youth river rose at the rate of more than a foot an hour this morning. At 5 o'clock last evening it was down to 3.79 feet, but it rose to 5.10 feet by 11 o'clock. Another reading taken at 11 o'clock showed that the stream had reached the 5.10 mark and was still rising rapidly. If the storm has been great in the mountains at its headwaters, it is likely that by night a record mark for the year will be set. The moon weather forecast calls for a cold wave to follow the rain. Local snows and strong gales are promised for Thursday. At 12:15 the Youth was up to 10.40 feet. Pupils attending the South Side schools waded so much water on their way to school this morning that they had to be sent home by their teachers. From Connelville come reports of much damage in the section along Redstone creek. The plant of the Keystone Bottling company was flooded and the 125 or more employees got an enforced vacation.

SLEET FOLLOWS STORM.

CLARKSBURG, March 22.—A sleet storm today followed the rain and thunderstorm which caused considerable damage to electric light and telephone wires throughout the city last night. Whole streets and sections of the city were left in darkness, but little property damage was done. One or two small trees broke out but the damage was slight. Reports from the northeastern part of Illinois, from the vicinity of Kansas and Louisville, and from Marion and Logansport, Ind., told of a tornado which caused the loss of one life and a number of persons and much property damage. Telephone and telephone wires were down and communication with outlying points was cut off. Marion, Ind., reported a passenger train on the Clover Leaf railroad blown from the track near that city last night. Several persons were injured, but none was killed. Four cars were overturned and a fifth was derailed.

WOULD MAKE ARMOR AT THE GOVERNMENTS OWN PRICE*Steel Company Offered to Let Accountants Determine Just Charge for Plates.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—When the House naval committee bill today received the 70-man bill for a government armor plate plant which passed the Senate yesterday it also received a proposal from the Bethlehem Steel Company to cut the price of armor from the present price of $425 a ton to $305.
The statement says:
"We were to manufacture one-third or such additional quantity as may be required for the contemplated five-year naval program estimated at approximately 120,000 tons at a price of $305 per ton for side armor as compared with the price of $425 per ton obtaining. The proposed price is lower than has been paid by the government for more than 10 years."
"If the foregoing price is not satisfactory we will agree to permit any well known firm of chartered accountants or the federal trade commission to inventory our plant and make a careful estimate of the cost of manufacturing that plate in hand we will agree to manufacture armor at a price which will be entirely satisfactory to him as being quite as low as the lowest price at which the government could possibly manufacture armor on its own account after taking into account all proper charges."

ITS BIG BOILERS TODAY

Big Hurdle Placed on Inland Power Plant, Connelville Street Car Service for Time.
One of the three huge boilers being installed at the West Penn power plant will be fired this afternoon. It has a capacity equal to several of the boilers at present in service and is expected to materially increase the capacity of the station.
Because of the tremendous burden placed on the plant this morning it was necessary to suspend street car service for half an hour this morning. The flood in the Ohio river put two of the West Penn power houses out of commission and it was necessary for the Connelville plant to supply the deficiency. The West Penn station, which within a month two more big boilers will be in service at the local plant, together with a 25,000 horse power turbine, and this additional equipment is expected to generate sufficient electricity to not only take care of every demand likely to be made on the West Penn at the present, but to provide for future growth in business.

COURIER'S BIG CONTEST*Coming is Good Now and it is the Time to Start and Keep at It—Free Votes
Through Coupon Attracting Attention; Get Them, as They Count.*Now You Get the Better.

Come while the coming is good. The coming is good just now in The Courier's contest. Just now, no one knows who is, or who is not going to be an active candidate. A few weeks from now everyone will know who "the winners" are. Therefore, the coming is good at this particular time. It is a fair field with no favorites. Everyone is welcome who can get nominated and it remains for each candidate to work out his or her campaign. In all contests, many are called and few chosen. There are hundreds of men and women who will start in almost anything. These are people who are looking for something for nothing, wanting everything for nothing. You can get them on a platter and usually they demand a silver platter. Such as these are always attracted to a contest in great numbers. Then there is another class. These people know that in order to secure anything worth while, YOU MUST PUT FORTH EFFORT AND PULL. These people enter a contest and work hard, even though they are not called. You can look about the world and find many who have failed and the reason for the failure was not luck but the man himself. So in a contest, if you have decided to enter, begin to pull. The more you pull, the more you will gain and by and by, your campaign will go by its own momentum and when the hot hour of the contest comes, you will find your name high on the list of winners. Why? Because you pushed.

MAKE NO MISTAKE

Do not make a mistake about The Courier's Contest. The winners of the prizes and commissions will be the workers. If you work, you win. If you don't work, you lose. Don't think you are going into a project that can be won in a walk. A contest is a contest. Any successful person goes only by "WILL" and "PULL". You can look about the world and find many who have failed and the reason for the failure was not luck but the man himself. So in a contest, if you have decided to enter, begin to pull. The more you pull, the more you will gain and by and by, your campaign will go by its own momentum and when the hot hour of the contest comes, you will find your name high on the list of winners. Why? Because you pushed.

to Recover $5,000 From Local Estate on a Note.

Special to The Courier.
CONELLSVILLE, March 22.—George W. Wood, a Pittsburgh handwriting expert, testified today in the case in which Frank Mantell of Connelville is seeking to recover on a judgment note for $5,000 made payable to him by the late A. B. Morton 30 days after the latter's death. He declared that two different kinds of ink are used on the note and he expressed a belief that Mr. Morton's signature was a forgery, afterwards retreating in ink. He showed how this could have been done by holding the blank space on the note up to a window over a standard signature and tracing the letters. The signature on the note, the expert testified, is not in the same handwriting as the usual signature of Mr. Morton on other papers.

THE GREAT KIDNEY MEDICINE FULFILLS ITS MISSION

I was afflicted with bladder trouble. I suffered such great pain that the doctor had to take my urine. After the doctor had treated me for two weeks, I did not get any better. Remembering that a few doses of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Foot, completely relieved my mother-in-law, after all the doctors who were called on her case had failed to do her any good, I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Swamp Foot, which he did, and I took it and threw the doctor's preparations away. I became immediately better. After I started taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Foot I was greatly relieved. My husband was so pleased he said I should take one dozen bottles of Swamp Foot, but by the time I had taken seven bottles I was completely restored to health. That was six years ago and I have not taken any medicine since. My weight is 125 pounds, have three children, do my own work in a house of 12 rooms and keep boarders. Very truly yours, MRS. ANNIE BAUGHMAN, 657 Newell st., Hurkinton, Ohio. Personally appeared before me this 19th day of December, 1914, Mrs. Annie Baughman, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

A MESSAGE TO THIN WEAK SCRAWNY FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 Pounds of Solid, Healthy Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good nourishing food. The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste."

What is needed is a means of gently using the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and build them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—easier and hungrier for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the blood. A splendid way of working to overcome this painful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to try Sargol, the famous flesh building agent that has been so widely sold in America in recent years. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and see if your cheeks don't quickly fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh form over your body, covering such bony angles and projecting points.

All good druggists have Sargol or can get it from their wholesalers, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each large package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient. NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Adv.

"Yes, Crisco makes as fine a cake as the best butter and costs but half as much."

Any woman who uses Crisco for cake making will tell you so.

Why shouldn't it?

It is even richer than butter. Butter is almost one-fifth water. Crisco is 100 per cent shortening. It is shortening of the best grade. Strictly vegetable in origin and manufactured by a scientific process which produces a product of the highest quality and of absolute uniformity. It has only a mild, delicate, natural odor and flavor. It is of just the right consistency—neither too hard nor too soft—to cream readily with the other ingredients.

In a word,

CRISCO
For Frying—For Shortening—For Cake Making

embodies everything that, up to the present, has enabled butter alone to produce the most delicious cake. In addition, it makes the cake keep fresh much longer.

Yet, with all these desirable qualities, Crisco costs only half as much as butter.

Women are as successful with their bakings as when they used butter. Women who always have been careful to use the best butter, are now enthusiastic about Crisco. Is not the promise of such perfect satisfaction and great economy enough to make you try it?

Suggestion Offered That Timberlands Provide Payette Field Fence.

It has been suggested that the High School Athletic Association put in a bid for the timber in the timberlands with which a fence could be built around Payette Field. The boys with the knowledge of tools called from manual training instruction could put the fence up in little hours.

The fence would be a paying proposition in that two of the biggest games of the season will be played here and with an admission charged some money could be made. Greensburg and Scenicville both play here next season. It is declared by the athletic association that it would be impossible to go through another season without a fence.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! It tells you it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.
When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.
You needn't coax sick children to take this delicious "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—do that you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sulky complexion—dark lines under your eyes—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels which he gave to his patients for years.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by acting on the liver and clearing the system of impurities. A NOVEL

GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN

COPYRIGHT BY THE CENTURY CO.

McDougal had followed Alan into strange lands and strange places and seen him in many a deep hole, and through it all Alan had been the same—a purring dynamo at work. He had been the same since the trip into the Brazilian wilderness, and here a change had come over him. There were times when he talked and what he said was, "No more trips for me, McDougal. I'm a consulting engineer from this on." McDougal had heard more than one man talk like that over fever and was frowning, trying to remember one of them that had ever come back.

Alan was injured to river fever. He had fought it often, and when he saw the fetid pools of stagnant water in the dried-up watercourse he knew he would have to fight it again. Somehow, some night, a mosquito was bound to get at him, and the fever would begin. He doubted his preventive dose of quinine, but he could not double his spirits for the battle. He came to the field with a gnawing at those sources of health, a calm mind and sure sleep. Sleep did not come as of old after the day's work. Instead he tossed and twisted on his narrow cot and finally would turn on the electric torch to read two letters over and over again.

One he read with a curl of the lip. It was from a pretty woman that had fluttered into his life and out. He had forgotten her and now she had come back to him with words in his buzzing ears. She said, "It costs a woman to learn that happiness is not really, imaginably, between being fortunate and happy. A girl is dead. I was fortunate—just not tolerable—and stood on the brink of the gulf. Happiness brushed me with its wings. I reached out to catch it and it was gone. How long will it be before I climb back to the height that seemed not so very high when I possessed it? I don't know. . . . I do not hate you—only myself. You have known many women, but you have not known me. That is the bitter part. You do not know what I gave you. One thing I ask you and the words as I write are blurred with tears like my eyes. Give me a foolish woman, honest and true as I was, aware of the same sacrifice, do not take it. I have suffered for all the women you will meet."

"Fool," said Alan to himself, "fool not to see that I turned her into a weedy creature, lost strength and loosed a dumb tongue."

And then he drew out the other letter and the curl in his lip straightened out to a line of sweetness and the light in his eyes turned to a fiery, blind adoration. The letter had been sent to him by J. Y. who had no idea he was being sent. The letter began, "To my boy at thirty," and ended, "With undying love, your friend and mother." In life he could not remember his mother but he saw her now in three pieces of laboring words traced by a dying hand. In herself, dying at thirty, she had seen her boy revealed. She had had no strength—no time—left for slow up-branches. "With the first words of her letter she held a collar round his burning soul. She spoke the all-singing wisdom of death. She held him close to her heart and fed him with her life's blood. All that she had been, all that she had learned, all that she foresaw, was crowded into those three pages. They were brittle with age, the ink yellow and faded in words that he eyes but his and hers had been seen. They gripped his soul and held it steady. Without this letter he would have torn up the other. But the other had come as a complement and he kept it because it helped him to see himself.

As Alan weakened the bridge approached completion. The bridge of men as special work was finished, was dispatched to the coast. With each batch McDougal strove to send him dared. It was a chance. If he sent Alan to the rail-head there wouldn't be even a chance. There was no one who could help at the rail-head, nor along the thin line, nor even at the coast.

"In two days," said he despairingly, "the master will be dead."

They gathered at the door of Alan's tent and looked in at him as he lay half comatose. "No," said the oldest of them, "he will be dead in seven days' time."

As McDougal picked him up and laid him gently in a hammock, Alan came to. The hammock was padded with pillows and blankets and strong on a stout bamboo pole with two men at each end supporting it.

"What are you doing with me?" he asked angrily and sank back into the pillows. From there his eyes stared up at McDougal.

"I'm sending you home," said McDougal gently but firmly.

Alan smiled a twisted smile. "Sending me home?" he repeated, and added resignedly, "Oh, all right." Then he started up. "Bring matches," he said. McDougal took matches from inside his coat. "Burn them," he said. Alan drew two letters from inside his coat and watched jealously as McDougal opened out the sheets with reverent eyes and set fire to the thin paper. The flames danced blue, white and red under the light breeze. The men under the pole moved nervously, anxious to be off. Their eight companions wheeled their den-bitten ponies and headed for the trail. "No, you don't," shouted McDougal, "keep me here permanently just put these words into some big rock and lay me under it. Be careful you get them just so. The French are mighty particular about the way we use their lingo, and while it wasn't a Frenchman that wrote this bit, I guess he'd be just as particular."

"Aweel, sir," said McDougal, stilling his rage within him, "I'll do as you wish."

Alan seemed to have become child-like in his weakness. He spent what strength he had left in cutting words into a board ripped from a keystone box. When he had finished he called McDougal and showed him his handiwork. "McDougal," he said, "if anything should happen to keep me here permanently just put these words into some big rock and lay me under it. Be careful you get them just so. "Aweel, sir," said McDougal, stilling his rage within him, "I'll do as you wish."

Alan seemed to have become child-like in his weakness. He spent what strength he had left in cutting words into a board ripped from a keystone box. When he had finished he called McDougal and showed him his handiwork. "McDougal," he said, "if anything should happen to keep me here permanently just put these words into some big rock and lay me under it. Be careful you get them just so. The French are mighty particular about the way we use their lingo, and while it wasn't a Frenchman that wrote this bit, I guess he'd be just as particular."

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances persons have suffered from nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood. How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. S. Suter, specialist of this city, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill, you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of this element. Iron is supplied all their multitudes of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood can not live, and the liver and therefore, nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this condition, the blood is starved, the system becomes generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin, another is too fat, some are generally weak, some think they have dyspepsia, and some have trouble sleeping at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some are lousy and irritable; some are nervous and irritable; some are sickly and bloodless; some have physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotics, which only help up for a moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what your ailment is, if you are not strong, you are not well. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time and endurance had entirely got rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit.

It is almost a wonder wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron. It is the best of all the best blood builders in the world. The only trouble with that old form of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often causes people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by A. A. Clarke and all other druggists. WIDEN THE HORIZON OF YOUR BUSINESS

Vim Delivery Cars are planned and built for but one purpose—that of giving every merchant a scientifically correct delivery unit.

When properly used they will afford any business better service to present customers, a vastly wider circle of trade expansion, a visible indication of quality merchandising.

The merchants who have experimented with horse-drawn vehicles, heavy motor equipment and converted pleasure cars, were the first to recognize the worth of the Vim, and to use it exclusively. The Vim brought them what thousands of dollars spent in experimenting had not produced. Their conclusion is a good one for YOU to follow.

LITTLE GIANT HAS A BIG BETTERMENT PROGRAM FOR YEAR

Summer Promises to be a Busy One Along the
P. & L. E.

NEED FOR LABOR IS SERIOUS

Changes Are Made in Clerical Force at the P. & L. E. Following the Retirement of R. H. Spackman as Middle Power Timekeeper Other News.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad is planning a number of improvements on its line out of Pittsburgh this spring and needs many more men to carry on the increased work. One of the biggest improvements is about finished, that being the new freight house in Pittsburgh.

The main division of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is being double tracked, and it is expected to have this work completed in the early spring. The work is being pushed as both trucks and passenger traffic which has been on the increase all winter. New improvements have been made at West Newton.

It is reported that the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad has a contract to unload 300 cars of slag a day at the Nettle slag dump during the coming summer, and 200 men have already been employed at that place. Forty new men arrived from Chicago several days ago and were put to work there. As soon as quarters can be erected more men will be put to work there and it is expected that between four and five hundred laborers will be employed.

Charles McCarthy, a carpenter foreman from Muskegonport, has a gang of men at work erecting the houses now. About 40 of them will be erected. The houses are cottage style, one-story high and having four large rooms. Some of them have already been completed. A commissary will probably be erected at Nettle after the remaining houses are put up and the entire force gets on the job.

CHANGES IN FORCE
Motive Power Timekeeper Robert H. Spackman, employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, will leave tomorrow to assume new duties with the W. J. Rainey company at Mount Braddock. Spackman has been with the Baltimore & Ohio company the past six years. He will be succeeded by John E. Youngkin, accountant, who in turn will be succeeded by William E. Finn.

Thomas D. McKeever will take the place of Mr. Finn. H. G. Fisher will assume the duties of assistant timekeeper, succeeding E. M. Tipman, who takes the place of Mr. Fisher. These changes all affect the office of T. E. Miller, master mechanic.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES.
A. A. Geller, a Baltimore & Ohio fireman, running on the Conneltsville division, is laying off with a sore arm. Several days ago while climbing onto his tender to fill the water tank, he slipped on the steps and fell, severely bruising his arm.

A beagle found was shot by Special Officer J. G. Kelly of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday afternoon after it had had its legs cut off by a passenger train.

A. L. Kretsch, an employee of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Indian Creek has returned to work after visiting friends in Miami, Fla. Two steel dump cars for the Chesapeake Stone Company of Chesapeake, located above Bluestone, went through here yesterday.

No new policeman has yet been employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in the place of George Wanhawag, resigned, although applications are being considered.

John Hay, a rump brakeman of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, laid off yesterday.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has employed several young men for clerical positions in the last few days. Many, however, are turned away by the examining doctor.

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapopsin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and cruetate sour, indigestion, food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, and taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent boxes of Pape's Diapopsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapopsin" is harmless, tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapopsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.—Adv.

At the Theatres

SOISSON.
"HAZEL KIRKE."—The Pathé Co. will present the charming actress, Pearl White, at the Soisson Theatre today in the five-reel dramatic success, "Hazel Kirke." She is ably supported by Bruce Metten, Creighton Hale and William Riley Hatch. The story is of Hazel Kirke, a beautiful young girl who saves her father's will from foreclosure. Ben Wilson, and Dorothy Phillips are stars today in the two-reel drama, "Saved by a Song," telling the story of a man who was unjustly imprisoned for life, who was released when another man confessed, but found it hard to make an honest living afterward. He is saved from a life of crime by hearing a girl sing "Annie Laurie" and is turned to the path of right. The Laemmle feature, "The Disastrous Dardanelles Expedition," is an intensely interesting film. "Their Only Son" is a Nestor comedy with Billie Rhodes and Ray Gallagher in the cast. It is a clever farce telling of a little partner of Ray's who posed as a child for the benefit of a visiting uncle. Tomorrow, Ruth Roland appears in the thrilling detective serial, "The Red Circle." Friday, the celebrated actress Clara Kimbrell Young equines in the five-reel Russian play, "Hearts in Exile."

THE GLOBE

HELEN HOLMES.—In the second episode of "The Girl and the Game," a great railroad drama and June Dwyer in "Arrows of Happiness," a four act production of unusual interest, are featured today. Tomorrow the third episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page," presenting Henry Walthall and Edna Mayo will be shown in addition to other splendid attractions. Friday, Gertrude Farrar will appear in "Promotion," one of her latest moving picture successes. Tuesday, Mary Pickford will be starred in "The Foundling," said to be one of the best productions in which the famous little actress has ever appeared. The following Tuesday Marguerite Clark will be seen in "Alice and Men."

THE KIND OF TOBACCO YOU LIKE

"American Navy" Has the Delicious, Lasting Taste
That Satisfies

FULL OF JUICY SWEETNESS

For purity, wholesomeness and delicious goodness, no way of using tobacco can equal chewing it—and no form of chew can compare with rich, mellow, juicy plug tobacco.

Take American Navy for example. There's a tasty tobacco for you. An elastic, lasting chew crammed full of juicy sweetness. A chew that holds its savory flavor longer than any other tobacco.

In American Navy you get all the qualities you like so much in "scraps" tobacco plus the richer, mellow, juicier flavor that only plug can give you. American Navy has been the favorite of sturdy, steady chewers for years. You can't begin to get the same satisfaction out of any other tobacco.

Made of choice, ripe, whole leaf by the most modern sanitary processes, American Navy is better than many chewing tobaccos that cost you more.

Be sure you're equipped with a supply of American Navy before you tackle another day's work. In 5c and 10c cuts.
